

Prudential Socially Responsible fund (Series 1)

Fund description

The investment strategy of the fund is to invest in the shares of UK companies which pass a set of socially responsible criteria. The fund is actively managed against a benchmark constructed in conjunction with EIRIS (Ethical Investment Research Services). Companies who pass the screening criteria (which are reviewed regularly) represent around 60% of the FTSE All-Share Index by market capitalisation and so the fund's returns may vary more than other funds which can access the whole market.

Commentary

UK equities suffered major falls during the quarter as investor sentiment was badly hurt by poor economic data and the inability of Europe's politicians to solve the debt problems in the weaker eurozone countries. The fund's performance was driven by some of its holdings in more economically sensitive companies. For example, shares in tour operator Thomas Cook and car retailer Inchcape declined as uncertainty over economic growth in the UK and relatively high inflation negatively affected consumer confidence. On the other hand, the fund's positions in more defensive businesses, whose earnings are less reliant on buoyant commercial activity, were beneficial. Among the best performers were security company G4S and De La Rue, which prints banknotes and passports.

During the quarter, the fund manager closed the position in travel group Thomas Cook due to his concerns that feeble economic activity would continue to put pressure on discretionary spending among UK consumers. A stake in food retailer Sainsbury's was also sold and the proceeds reinvested in rival Tesco where the fund manager sees better longer term earnings potential. Conversely, the fund manager established a position in speciality engineering firm IMI, which manufactures air conditioning units and control valves. He expects IMI to benefit from its ongoing cost-cutting strategy and strong demand for the company's products in emerging markets.

What is the risk rating?

- › These risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund's potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.
- › We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund's level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest. You will find this information at www.pru.co.uk/factsheets
- › You should also consider discussing your decision and the appropriateness of a fund's risk rating with an adviser.
