

Prudential Alliance Bernstein Global Style Blend fund (Series 3)

Fund description

The investment strategy of the fund is to purchase units in the Alliance Bernstein Global Equity Blend Portfolio. This is an active, core global equity portfolio investing in equities across sectors and geographic regions. It combines a high-conviction growth portfolio with a deep-value portfolio and rebalances between them on a disciplined basis. It expects to deliver the high return potential of the two components, while mitigating the risk from investing in one alone.

Commentary

Global equities faced the most volatile conditions since 2008 during the third quarter. Investors fled for safer sectors, regions and assets amid growing fears that the European debt crisis and renewed economic weakness could push the global economy into recession.

At the sector level, underweights in utilities and consumer staples detracted, as these defensive sectors fared better than the overall market. However, underweights in the weak performing financials and industrials sectors contributed.

Not surprisingly, given growing market fears of the impact that the European sovereign debt crisis may have on banks and the global economy, the largest detractors in the quarter were European financials (Societe Generale and ING Groep) and materials firms (Rio Tinto, First Quantum Minerals and Xstrata).

The largest performers included stable, high-dividend stocks such as Japan Tobacco, British American Tobacco and Japanese pharmaceutical Mitsubishi Tanabe. Apple was also a strong performer.

Medium to Higher

What type of funds are in this risk category?

These funds offer a diverse geographical spread of equity investment. The funds within this category will have greater overseas exposure and underlying volatility than the "medium" sector.

What is the risk rating?

- › These risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund's potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.
- › We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund's level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest. You will find this information at www.pru.co.uk/factsheets
- › You should also consider discussing your decision and the appropriateness of a fund's risk rating with an adviser.
